Source: Marco Miranda Our phone is a battery pocket-sized supercompany with a professional-grade camera for a few days, but without the best Android apps to take advantage of it, what's the point? There are millions to millions of Android apps that transform our phones into productive powerhouses from shiny glass slabs, and over the past year, these are apps that have seized the day and made our lives easier, faster, and better. So now that you have one of the best Android phones of the year, you need to download all of the best Android apps. Source: Nick Sutrich / Android Central Who needs a personal assistant when there are services like Google Assistant and Amazon Alexa that you can use wherever you go? This type of app aims to make things easier by relieving the stress and pressures of everyday life. From automation to smart home products, and everything in between, these apps allow you to get the job done with a few help. It's been a busy year for google assistants, from the assistant routines of Google Clock to the massive expansion of assistant-compatible smart home devices to the overhaul of visual responses. It feels like a century ago when it added the Android Autogluke Assistant, but millions of simple extra drivers were safe, especially during such a long, frustrating holiday drive. Free from Google Play Tasker has stagnated a bit over the past few years, but since new owner João Dias - maker of the AutoApps plugin suite and the most ardent fan of Tasker - acquired, the automation app has seen UI overhauls and major updates. TaskerNet and enhanced export/import make it easier than ever to share, adjust, and create amazing profiles and tasks for Android (and more). At $3.49 Google Play Amazon is no longer just the best place to go for online shopping needs, as the company continues to expand its understanding into the world. With Alexa, you can use your personal assistant in your pocket, along with integration with echo devices and the ability to connect wherever you go. You can also call or send messages to other Alexa-enabled devices without paying a penny. Wanted to know what kind of flowers you can see while hiking for free on Google Play? Well, with Google Lens you can quickly find it just holding the camera up to the flowers. Lenses can translate foreign languages or contact business people faster than ever before. You can create a variety of automations between apps and services that are free to use on Google Play IFTTT. With more than 630 different integrations, you can create your own recipes and get alerts when those items on your Amazon wish list are finally sold. If you don't want to create your own, there's a community and library of different recipes to choose from. Whether you need to control free lows, lights, smart plugs, thermostats or auxiliary speakers/displays on Google Play in the warmth of your bed or in the farthest corners The new Home view of the Google Home app is easy to do. Being able to add home members to use what you've already set up is a big step towards making your smart home more accessible to all skill levels. Play the best keyboard app source for free from Google: Keyboard on Android Central smartphone is one of the most used apps every day. When a friend sends you a message, if you need to reply to an email, or if you need to get your thoughts out, it's the first thing that pops up. But the good thing is that there is a keyboard app that works for everyone, regardless of the basic thing, or if you want to go to the extremes of customization. Gboard's keyboard dominates the market with an continuing expanded array of features on Android, iOS, and soon Chromebooks. While some of this year's additions, which include options such as creating emoji packs or GIFs, may seem trivial, Gboard has added support for the latest floating keyboard mode that fills dozens of new languages and forms. Instead of dealing with the keyboard's default stock theme, Chroma, which is free on Google Play, offers a keyboard with lots of customization options for your head to spin. This is in addition to featuring smart AI to provide highly improved situational predictions when compared to competition. You can also get the added benefit of gestures you already know and love. Free w/iAP from Google Play Swift Key is coming in at 4 million download mile markers and for good reason: This custom keyboard provides complete control. The app itself sports more than 100 different themes, you can even create your own themes with photos you have taken or downloaded as backgrounds. SwiftKey includes support for more than 300 languages and can activate up to five different languages at a time. Free Google Play many keyboard apps just focus on if you're misspelling it. Grammar takes things to the next level with smart predictions, and even the ability to choose from synonyms if you want to sound fancy. Not only can you expand your vocabulary, but your writing will sound professional. Play free w/iAP best browser source on Google: Android Central, mobile browser handle most of the heavy lifting while the Google app allows you to quickly search for something. Some of these mobile browsers are powerful enough to allow you to install extensions, while others offer the most privacy browsing experience possible. And hey, one of our recommendations even gives users the ability to make some dough while surfing. Ads help you turn on some lights, but it can actually be annoying when you're trying to check out the latest articles. With browsers like Brave, you are guaranteed to get the best adblock browser, while getting a fast and safe browsing experience. There are also additional benefits of your speed and bravery that pays you to search the web in the way you want. Free w/ads from Google Play Samsung You finally made your Play Store debut a few years ago, and it's much more solid than anything else you'll find. In addition to the built-in privacy features, Samsung can also download third-party applications that act as extensions. And if you're already using this browser on a Samsung device, you'll get more features not available elsewhere, such as integration with Gear VR and more. Google has worked tirelessly to deliver new features to our apps while maintaining a fresh and clear design. When you use Chrome, you'll get almost the same features as apps on your computer, including syncing, so you can start reading something on your phone and choose from your PC. Google Play is free from Firefox and is already a fan favorite for desktop browsing, so why not check its mobile browser? Built-in ad tracker blocking, improved privacy controls, and extensions give you all the tools you need. The best VPN app source for free from Google: Harish Jonnalagadda / Android Central Virtual Private Network (VPN) is used for an array of reasons, including providing the ability to hide your online identity. All of these apps are free, but there are subscriptions to consider if you want to browse securely anywhere. With more than 3,000 servers in more than 90 countries, it's easy to understand why ExpressVPN offers a great experience. It's easy to get started and all your web browsing is encrypted so you can surf safely. There is no limit to the number of devices you can connect to after you sign up for the service, and it also protects text and instant messages. Google Play NordVPN's free w/iAP is one of the best in the business due to the way it handles data. The data passes through the initial server and then sends the same encrypted data to the second server for an added layer of protection. In addition, more than 5,500 servers are available in more than 50 countries. The free w/iAP from Google Play Surfshark is outstanding because it can be used with unlimited number of servers at the same time as speed. It will be great for almost everything you will do with your device, but because you can't use Surfshark with streaming apps it is located outside of free w/iAP from IPVanish and Google Play, and is provided with a safe environment to search the web, watch videos, and manage bills. The service can move more than 1,400 servers in 75 countries and provides 24/7 support. If you don't want to stick with this service, you should change your mind within 30 days. Free Play Best File Management App Source from Google: Andrew Myrick/ Android Central Although many of us have changed the way we use our phones, there are It's never going to change - we download a lot of things. I'm not just talking about applications, I'm also talking about music files, documents, PDFs or new wallpapers. It's important to organize your files so that you know where everything is or remove insoey memes. If you tend to download fileboats to your smartphone, you're going to need a simple File Manager Pro to keep you organized. This app provides an intuitive experience to access root files while providing access to microSD cards or USB devices. In addition, there are a lot of customization options to create a theme that suits your desires. For those who want some simple file managers with Google Play, but want something a little more complicated, X-Profile File Manager is perfect. You can access and set up an app to manage your Android phone's files from your computer's web browser. Free w/iAP from Google Play files by Google started as an experimental app, but it's set up in a lightweight way to prevent your storage from being filled. Features such as Smart Recommendations suggest jpeg files that you can easily download and remove files from. It has been available in the Play Store for more than 10 years for free on Google Play Astro and has become one of the best file manager options. The app makes it easy to access your files along with opening annoying Zip and RAR files on your smartphone. You can also manage cloud storage services directly from Astro, making it an all-in-one storage option. Play free on Google best social media app Source: Android Central Social Media is a pickle sister. It can be an easy way to stay in touch with friends with good sources of news and information, but it's also frustrating when the latest trends and memes clogged up your timeline. Fortunately, there are many other platforms where you can share your voice with like-minded people or create a great community. I've been hiding third-party Reddit for years, but this year the official Reddit app breezes past the rest for relays, boosts, and top app options. Reddit's new website look has been a source of a lot of small controversy, but I rather enjoyed seeing all of the new websites in constant improvement on the Android app. Now only if I did not suck all of my dinner breaks with /r / write prompt ... Google Play continues to rise free from Instagram's popularity and it seems that there is simply nothing that can stop any competitors. This app is one of the easiest ways to share your favorite photos, like you can track your life or edit goofy photos. You can also get features like IGTV from some of your favorite creators, and the app makes it easier to find more people/brands. Let's face it, let's play Google for free. There are a lot of Twitter apps in the Play Store, and a lot of them are pretty good, Competing with Phoenix 2. From multiple account support to a very useful mute system, Fenix 2 aims to be the best Twitter client available. This doesn't count for custom options that can adjust the layout while giving you the ability to create themes that make Twitter more enjoyable. $4.99 google play is on Snapchat for everyone you know and for good reason because it makes it easier than ever to share your life. You'll get private messaging, free cloud storage, and a variety of ways to make your photos and videos absolutely perfect. Free w/Google Play Best Photo App Source: Andrew Martonik / After years of potato photography on Android Central mobile devices, we are finally at the point where our smartphones can take better photos than some DSLR cameras. The Play Store opens the door for various apps to take, edit, and store these photos, which act as digital memory banks. ProCam X unlocks the potential of that smartphone cameras can do, which is quite a lot these days. The app gives you professional controls such as ISO, white balance, and even geo-tagging to control different aspects of your image. With this app, you can take RAW photos even after the fact that you open better image editing. For $5 on Google Play after you take a picture, chances are you'll edit it. Adobe Lightroom makes it easy to edit or step up and edit like a pro on your smartphone. Adobe has a built-in pro-level camera, making Lightroom an all-in-one solution for your mobile photo needs. For those who care more about backing up their photos from Google Play at free w/iAP and are interested in less pro-level editing, then the only real choice is Google Pictures. The app itself provides users with some basic photo editing features, and sometimes provides stylish photos based on how Google thinks the photo should look. You can also create shared albums in seconds with smart auto albums and photobooks. Our smartphone cameras on Google Play are more powerful today than ever, and we don't just talk about taking pictures. Apps like FILMIC Pro give you complete control over the editing process by taking professional-quality videos. Those who are already familiar with recording videos on a DSLR will feel at home without having to look around the camera bag. $15 Google Play Best Custom App Source: Joe Maring / Android Central Android's biggest benefit, compared to the competition, the ability to customize almost every aesthetic aspect of the device. There is a way to customize everything from the look of the app drawer to the settings menu. These are the best applications you can use to get the exact look you want on your smartphone. At the beginning of the year, I told him to use the launcher. Smart launcher, I would have laughed in your face. Then smart launcher 5 arrived and I fell in love. Flexible, categorized app drawers are better than ever, and by integrating Icon Pack Studio with a gridless widget system, SL5 makes the wind of creating and switching themes. Free w/Google Play offers an IAP 2 pixel launcher feel from a lawn chair, with all the customizations you'll find in other third-party launchers. There is support for adaptive icons along with new drawer category features. You can use Lawnchair to create the most complex or basic launchers on your mobile device. The big brother of Kustom widget maker KWGT on Google Play, Kustom Live Wallpaper's one-stop theme has grown considerably for me this year. Grid widgets in SL5 are good, but nothing beats KLWP's placement of pinpoints, edge widgets, and elements. Formulas and menus can be challenging, but they make themes possible in KLWP's strong community, especially on Reddit. Free/$4.49 on Google Play can be frustrating when you find a pack of icons you love, but there are a few apps that are not included. Of course, you can submit a request to the developer and wait for the update to come, but there is a better solution. Icon Pack Studio lets you create your own icon packs while customizing all the icons you want, and works almost with third-party launchers. Free or $4.49 (pro) Google Play wallpapers are as fun as we've been able to do it, and Tapet has been right there with us for quite some time. With Tapet, you can automatically create new wallpapers every hour or once a day by selecting your own wallpaper or setting up an app. In addition, the app automatically detects the resolution of your smartphone so that the wallpaper looks sharp and does not stain your home screen. Free w/iAP on Google Play some of us don't have the time or want to dive through thousands of icon packs, but just want something that looks good. Whicons (on the surface) are not flashy, but they do the job of providing a handsome icon pack for Android phones. With support for wallpapers and dynamic calendar icons that match more than 5,500 custom icons, you'll see the right date for your calendar. Free w/iAP from Google Play Source: Ara Wagon/Android Central customize your phone to mind content, as well as you can quickly utilize widgets to digest various bits of information. Whether you want to see what the weather forecast looks like or see what's on today's agenda, there's a widget for everything. Then, with other apps, you can create your own widgets with all the information you can think of. Best password manager source: Joe Maing / Android Central absolutely, positively, under no circumstances should you have a note on your smartphone with the password listed. Hackers are better than ever today Your personal information may be disclosed more easily than you think. However, if you have a password manager, you can analyze the password and then know if it has been compromised. The app can then help you create a password that is safe, secure, and almost unbreakable so that your information doesn't fall into the wrong hands. 1Password wasn't always the best option in the Play Store, but recent updates have upped the ante and pushed it to the top of the charts. The service offers a simple trial period before you sign up for a subscription. And your safe will remain protected while giving you the ability to keep your personal information safe but important to your preparation. Free w/ IAP from Google Play LastPass does a fantastic job of keeping all your passwords safe and secure, even if you want to stick to a free account. Then there is a premium option for a single user, or a specific plan can protect the whole family. The service even provides security challenges to help you update your passwords, keep them secure, and get out of the hands of malicious people. When it comes to Dashlane free w/iAP on Google Play, you can access 50 passwords stored on a single device as a free version, but Premium gives you more. Premium subscriptions give users access to personalized VPNs along with credit monitoring and identity theft protection. This is all in addition to being a good place to keep your passwords safe and easy to update. On Google Play, free w/iAP doesn't use the same password every time you create a new login on the web. Enpass is a simple password manager that works regardless of whether you are connected to the web because the data is stored on a device rather than on your company's server. But with the help of popular cloud services like Dropbox, Google Drive, and more, you can easily sync all your passwords across your device. Play free w/iAP best messaging app source on Google: Android Central let's be real, the main way to communicate for everyone about messaging. Thanks to various apps and services, it is much easier to call your mom and shoot texts than to sit on your phone for more than an hour. Not everything requires phone calls, and these messaging apps open the door to easy communication with friends, family, colleagues, and others. Dark theme! A message on the web! It's been a big year for Google's SMS app, and while I still miss The Mood Messenger and Textra's theme, Pulse's paid SMS sync service for the only third-party SMS app that can compete with messages for the web, is more compatible with platforms and browsers. Message themes may be lacking, but dark themes are a welcome addition. Google Play free on Android Central has been lax for years because Slack is one of the best chat apps on the market today for business or personal purposes. Through threads Without spamming the main chat, everyone can upload a custom slackmoo for added sensation. All I need now is a dark topic, so I don.m my boss when Pinging them at 2 a.m. Free Google Play SMSGor started as a fun project on the Microsoft Garage team but has turned it into one of the smartest apps you can download. You can send SMS and MMS messages, but SMS tools can generate automatic notifications from conversations and easily pay friends for in-app dinners. You can also easily block spam messages, such as customizing notifications and setting specific ringtones for your contacts. The free Google Play Telegram was already one of the fastest and most popular third-party messaging clients available, but Telegram X turns things up a step. With the X version of the application, interaction with the application is much faster, with an improved interface and more features along with a bunch of gestures to use. The free Google Play feud is designed with gamers in mind, but it's increasingly switching to a messaging platform thanks to its integration and ease of use. Quickly build your user community with easy community management while setting up member roles and creating invitation links while you're ready. If free end-to-end encryption on Google Play is the name of the game, then Signal Personal Messenger is the best option. The service ensures that all messages you send are safe, and you can also set your app to act as the default SMS client for your Android device. You can make audio and video calls that ensure you stay personal, no matter what. GooglePlay More Best Weather App Source: Harish Jonnalaga / Android Central Nobody wants to get caught in a storm at the wrong time, it's important to know whether you need your coat or it's shorts and sandals time. It's somewhat hard to find rough diamonds on the Play Store. Thankfully, there are some apps that stand alone in the pack while offering something unique. AccuWeather is an easy proposition for a great weather app thanks to its MinuteCast feature. This provides the latest weather warnings so you know if there's a surprise storm. In addition, the app includes a live radar of the area showing you where the nearest storm system is so you can get ready. Free w/iAP from Google Play Weather can be annoying, so it's important to have an app to help you manage your weather forecast. Today the weather is outstanding in that regard with regards to access to beautifully designed applications and other bits of information you can want. In addition, it can be customized so that you can see or hide what you want to know and what you don't. Free w/iAP on Google Play instead relies on an app that can tell you when bad weather may be heading your way, why not see it for yourself? Radar scopes Radar view of what's going on around you with the latest updates following a potential storm warning from the Weather Bureau. Free w/iAP from Google Play Yahoo Weather has come a long way over the years and now sports a gorgeous design that shows you all the information you need. You can track up to 20 cities at the same time or use interactive maps to see where storm systems are expected to pass. Free w/ads from Google Play's best news app source: Andrew Myrick/Android Central The world is moving faster than ever and you don't want to miss that relevant news being talked about around the office. There is a news app from a dedicated source, but if you have an aggregator, essential news is not essential. With a clean layout, you can use apps that can aggregate news of interest from trusted sources. It is important to have a news app that aggregates what is important to you while giving you an idea of what is happening in the rest of the world. Google News has quick access to the top five daily headlines and uses the For You tab to read the news you're interested in. Google has even included a full range feature that compiles sources and more lists for key stories. Free w/ ads on Google Play Feed are for people who want to have a news app tailored to their interests around the world. The app makes it easy to organize your favorite sources with the power of RSS while integrating with other apps such as IFTTT and Zapier.
